WHAT PARENTS ARE SAYING

"I love everything about Lincoln. From the first day of school we felt that we were a part of the family. The teachers care about the students, the PTO is great, and there are several events for families to get involved in."

LINCOLN IN THE COMMUNITY

- Our partnership with Communities in Schools and The United Way of the Greater Lehigh Valley connects us with other learners in our community.
- We host programs and events in conjunction with community leaders.
- Lincoln has a partnership with East Stroudsburg University. We host ESU students in our classrooms as they prepare to become future educators. They provide one-to-one and small group instruction. They also coordinate and carry out enrichment opportunities for students and families. Through this partnership we are able to keep up on the latest trends and research in education.
- Women United is a global network of women who "believe in the collective power of women and empowering each other to accomplish more." They adopted Lincoln Elementary School in 2015 and has provided funding for targeted academic intervention and enrichment programs.

Programs currently funded by Women United are: Art Club, Artology, Building Bridges, Dance Club, Mindfulness, Robotics, Shooting Stars, Karate, Cooking Matters, Glam Squad and Wild About Learning, and Mad Science.

These are just a few of the programs Women United have provided for students to engage students and stretch their learning.

- We offer scholarships to graduating seniors.

CONNECTING FAMILIES AND SCHOOLS

- Our Parent Teacher Organization (PTO) is a great way for parents to get involved in the community.
- We encourage parents to volunteer in classrooms and participate in Family Engagement Nights.
- We host Student Recognition Days and families are encouraged to attend.
- Our parent-teacher conferences keep families connected to their child's education.
