Celebrating 100 Years of Public Education at Liberty High School

History of Liberty High School (Excerpt from Liberty High School's May 1923 Dedication Book).

Liberty High School represents one of the great achievements of the City of Bethlehem. This is high claim. The history of the community, reaching back to colonial days, has been notable. Planning and completion of the noble structure fell in a time of extraordinary import and gravity. Consolidation of independent towns in the City of Bethlehem with the absorption, in quick succession, of large tracts of adjacent territory brought on the need of such a school. Momentous for Bethlehem, at that very time, was the entrance of America into the World War. By reason of its giant steel industry, the city became one of the great arsenals of the land. Phenomenal increase of population followed and made more imperative the enlargement and improvement of the entire school plant. As plans matured and work proceeded in "the days that tried men's souls", the idea took form the new high school, designed, in the first instance, to further the well-being of the youth, should stand, also, as a War Memorial, commemorating the valor of Bethlehem men who went to the front, the sacrifice of the heroic dead and the manifold contributions and productions of the city toward bringing the war to swift and just conclusion. Hence, the name Liberty High School. As a community project, Liberty High School is wholly creditable as a War Memorial, altogether worthy. The building has style and distinction. Its grounds are ample, centrally located, and their contemplated treatment is strikingly open to the inflow of community interest. In all parts and to the last detail, the buildings and the grounds are adapted to the use of the pupil, benefit of citizen and the furthering of worthwhile purpose. They have come so to be, because, in liberal measure, the thought and energy of the citizens and their accredited representatives have been focused upon them. Members of the Board of Education and the Executive Staff who planned and guided civic authorities who encouraged, the press which gave publicity instructive and informing, the public and private organizations that approved, churches that gave their sanction, citizens who voiced helpful criticism and voted bond issues by convincing majorities, united to carry the splendid enterprise, through many difficulties, to gratify completion.

Today...

Liberty High School is not your typical high school. It is a life changing institution that welcomes all students. The school's mission is dedicated to ensuring every graduate is able to identify their passion and purpose, discovering their career pathway while supporting their community and world for the better. Liberty strives to create a positive learning community, dedicated to a culture of excellence, where all relationships are valued. All members of the Liberty family have a responsibility to uphold the spirit of accountability through open communication, consistency, mutual respect, and school-wide safety. Through collaboration, Liberty High School provides growth and develops independent thinkers for our 21st century global family.

(Excerpt from Liberty High School's May 1923 Dedication Book).

Liberty High School will prepare some for higher institutions - college, technical and normal school; it will fit some for offices and business houses; it will train others to be leaders and skilled workers in the great industries of the city; it will school many for more worthy home-making and a broader social service; and it will teach all to live and work together happily and helpfully in a great democracy. As the school itself stands a pledge of a people's faith in education so shall the activities of its full, rich and loyal life be a pledge "That government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth."

CELEBRATION PACKAGES

100TH ANNIVERSARY DEDICATION GIFT

(Excerpt from Liberty High School's May 1923 Dedication Book).

Music is the most universally appealing of all arts. It is one of the most powerful socializing factors. Feelings of goodwill and comradeship are developed more quickly through music than any other art medium. Music is potentially great in refining and uplifting of man. Under its influence, man is able to rise above the commonplace to the heights of imagination. Music is a universal language. It appeals to people of every nation. No other art so completely influences the individual, the home, the community and the nation as music.

Give the Gift of Music

Whether you're an alum, faculty member, student, parent or friend of Liberty High School, you've experienced Liberty High School music over the years. Help us continue Liberty High School's music tradition by supporting the efforts to give a Steinway piano as our 100th Anniversary dedication gift. A gift of any size celebrates Liberty's music tradition, and donations of certain levels will recognize your name, class, club, or business too!
